Dear Year 3 and 4 Parents,

Amy Atwater – Author Visit

On Wednesday May 14th we are delighted to welcome American palaeontologist, Amy Atwater, who is over from the USA to launch her first children's book, and we are the lucky school she has chosen to visit! Amy runs a popular palaeontology themed science communication social media page on Instagram with 65K followers, under the handle 'mary_annings_revenge', inspired by the 18th century palaeontologist Mary Anning.

Her new book, The Fossil Keeper's Treasure, is a treasure trove of facts and information about fossils, perfect for readers in Years 3 and 4. We have an excellent comprehension workbook to accompany the book, so that your children can practise their written nonfiction comprehension skills and get the very most from this beautiful volume.

The RRP of the book is £16.99, the Amazon price £13.39 and the Fair Field price is £13, along with the workbook.

To order your copy to be signed by Amy when she visits, please go onto School Gateway and purchase your copy of the book no later than THIS WEDNESDAY 7th May 4pm so that books can be ordered to arrive in time for signing next Wednesday.

Meeting authors and buying a book by someone that your child has met, is the perfect way to encourage reading for pleasure and grow knowledge.

Kind regards

Mrs O'Sullivan
